Matthew 25 | Be the Light

"For once you were darkness, but now in the Lord you are light. Live as children of light— for the fruit of the light is found in all that is good and right and true." Ephesians 5:8-9

"The transmission of the faith not only brings light to men and women in every place; it travels through time, passing from one generation to another. Because faith is born of an encounter which takes place in history and lights up our journey through time, it must be passed on in every age. It is through an unbroken chain of witnesses that we come to see the face of Jesus." Pope Francis, Lumen Fidei

TAKE A LEAP OF FAITH:

Be the Light by taking a Leap of Faith Corporal and Spiritual Work of Mercy card from a basket on the altar.

How is God calling you to Be the Light during Lent this year?

Did Christ Practice Stewardship?

On our 2018 Lenten journey we will accompany Christ into the desert, to the mountaintop, and into the temple where He confronts the moneychanger. We will hear of Christ curing the deaf man, foretelling his death. We will enter into the Passion yet again. I ask you - through this Lenten journey, did Christ practice Stewardship?

In two instances it is clear that He did. At the age of 30 He gave of His time to minister to the outcasts - those possessed, the deaf, the blind, the lepers, the sinners. He gave of his talent, His love for every human being and His God given ability to heal the sick and brokenhearted. But did He give of his treasure? Of course He did. He gave what is the most valuable thing any human being can give. He gave what is priceless. He gave His life.

There dear friends is biblical stewardship. It is a way of life. We are challenged by the example of Christ every Lent to emulate him. So this Lent let us reflect on how we can live stewardship vs. just giving to stewardship.

Wishing you a Lenten journey of the heart so that we can become the light of Christ in the world, on Easter Sunday and beyond.

Deacon Sandy

Did You Know????

In the Narthex, (vestibule), just opposite from the fireplace and to the right of the main doors entering into the Church, there is a podium on which is a ring binder. It's purpose is to allow any and all parishioners, and visitors, to list any prayer requests.

(From needing prayers due to illness, spiritual support in times of other needs, and also in thanksgiving for gifts received.)

We will then include a prayer for all prayers in Our Book of Intentions in our Universal Prayers during each and every weekend mass.

Please feel free to add your requests any time you come to church here at St. James.

Messages from our PA

- This weekend's Scripture readings are so full of meaningful insights, it was challenging to choose one to focus upon. However, my spiritual reading for Lent, Fr. Robert Spitzer's The Light Shines on in the Darkness: Transforming Suffering through Faith, makes specific reference to the verse from today's Exodus reading: "For I, the Lord, your God, am a jealous God, inflicting punishment for their fathers' wickedness on the children of those who hate me, down to the third and fourth generation; ..." Fr. Spitzer maintains that this reference is an expression of the human construct of God, attributing to God the same sense of justice or "pay-back" that we human beings are familiar with. He also maintains that Jesus, in fulfilling the Law without abolishing it, turns that construct topsy-turvy with his identification of the Father not as a "pay-back God" but rather as "Abba"—"Daddy"—and as the unimaginably merciful father figure in the Prodigal Son parable. We can see an inherent sense of this merciful God even in the Old Testament representations, and specifically in this same reading from Exodus, which continues with the oft-left-out: "but bestowing mercy down to the thousandth generation on the children of those who love me and keep my commandments."

So the commandments that God is enjoining the Israelites with in this reading are not intended to be a restrictive, oppressive, forbidding code, but rather a guide to right relationships with God and others that leads to a connective, freeing, and empowering way of life. This understanding is well expressed by the psalmist who uses the following descriptors of the "law of the Lord" in today's responsorial Psalm 19: perfect, refreshing, trustworthy, right, rejoicing, clear, enlightening, pure, enduring, true, just, precious, sweet...

Are you at home in the kitchen?

The SOAL program will take place on March 16, 23, April 6, 13, 20, & 27. We are looking for a couple of people to help in the kitchen with the preparation, serving, and clean up of meals. We could also use the help of someone to run the dishwasher. Is this something you might be able to help with? We would be happy to have your help on one of the Fridays or all 6. The time commitment would be from 10:30 a.m. – 1:00 p.m. Many hands are needed to make this program a success. Please call Sue at 262-253-2904 to discuss this opportunity further.

St. James Community Gardens

Have you ever tried to ignore an itch? Maybe there was a time when your extended family had gathered for a group picture and everyone was trying to hold still until the baby stopped squirming so that you would get a good shot. And just then you got a tickle on your nose. If you scratched it you could ruin the picture for everyone but you just need to scratch it. The more you ignore it, the worse it gets. If you've ever been in a situation like that, you know what we mean. The itch is almost irresistible. You have to do something.

Spring is a bit like an itch that begs to be scratched. The weather teases us by warming up a bit. A few geese start flying north. The sun lingers longer in the sky and we start looking for signs of those spring plants poking hopefully through the soil. That's the spring itch.

We don't want you to ignore that itch and we have the perfect way to scratch it. Contact Paul (information below) about being a volunteer seed starter. We provide all the supplies, you provide some sunlight, warmth and water so that our plants will be ready for our plant sale and gardens. We're hoping to start nearly 1,500 plants this year. Some of our seeds have started already, but in order to be ready for the plant sale on the weekend of May 20th we need to be starting peppers by March 25 and tomatoes by April 1st. Don't delay, volunteer to raise some plants. We'd love to help you scratch your spring itch.

If you have any questions or comments, feel free to contact Paul Schneider at (414-587-1202) or pschneider@wi.rr.com.

A few classes have an additional fee for the cost of supplies. Anyone in the community is welcome to participate.
